THE CHOCTAW TROUBLES

They Are Laid Before Secretary
Smith—Supreme Court Cases—The Financial Crisis.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Nobility paid its respects to democracy this afternoon at the white house, when the Duke of Veragua called on President Cleveland. The duke, a party of two in open carriage, arrived at the Arlington hotel, and arrived at the mansion at exactly 3 o'clock. With the duke were his wife, his brother, Marquis de Barboles, his son, Christopher Columbus Aguilera, Commander F. W. Dickens, representing the United States government, and Mrs. Dickens, and Senor Rodrigo de Savard, an attaché of the Spanish legation in Washington, representing the Spanish minister. The duke and his attendants were shown immediately into the blue room, where President and Mrs. Cleveland awaited them. The black frock coat which Cleveland wore contrasted strongly with the gold lace and brass buttons of the duke, marquis, Don de Savard and Commander Dickens. Gold lace was the predominant feature in the uniform of the duke, while across his breast he wore a sash of watered silk in variegated colors. Hardly less brilliant was the costume of the marquis, while Don de Savard outshone both in the picturesque of his long cape of white dooskin, reaching nearly to his heels. The naval uniform of Commander Dickens, usually considered very showy and brilliant, was almost sombre in the contrast it bore to the attire of the Spaniards. All four of the men wore swords, the duke's being heavily jewelled.

There was no attempt at ceremony in the blue room. Commander Dickens made the introductions and a few words were spoken with just a suggestion of formality by the duke and the president in reference to the visit of the duke to America. Then the duke party bowed itself out and, reentering the carriages, was driven to the navy department.

In the absence of Secretary Herbert, Assistant Secretary McAdoo received the visitors and, after a minute spent in conversation, accompanied them to the state department, where they were met by Secretary Gresham in the diplomatic room. Escorting by Assistant Secretary Adee of the state department, the duke and his party went to the office of Secretary Lamont and paid their respects. This ended the reception and the party returned to the Arlington.

HE GETS NO WRIT.

The United States Supreme Court Talks Business to a Sheriff.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The South Carolina tax cases were passed upon by the supreme court of the United States today, the opinion being delivered by Chief Justice Fuller. It came upon the petition of Sheriff Tyler of Aiken county, for a writ of habeas corpus to release him from imprisonment under the judgment of the circuit court of the United States that he be fined $500 for contempt. He had seized a train on a South Carolina railroad upon a warrant issued by the state authorities for collection of taxes which were in controversy. The road was in the hands of a receiver appointed by the United States court and he was adjudged guilty of contempt for failing to release the property under the order of that court. He came to the supreme court for relief.

Justice Fuller returned an opinion containing much stronger language than is usually found in such documents, denying the application of the petitioner for a writ. He said that the seizure of property by force was unjustifiable and could not be defended. The claims of the state for taxes are not superior to the general rule which makes property placed in the hands of a receiver subject to the orders of the court. They are to be determined in a regular way and in a proper manner. The action of the circuit court, Chief Justice Fuller said, was in no sense an action against the state of South Carolina, which, it was concluded, could not be maintained under the eleventh amendment to the constitution. In conclusion he said that the circuit court was equipped with the fullest power to protect its dignity and to force its mandates, and its use of these powers in the case in point could not be reviewed here. Therefore the petition for a writ of habeas corpus was denied. The same judgment was announced in the cases of Sherman, Riser and Gaines, which came to the supreme court with Tyler's, for relief.

A QUEER ACTION.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company Loses in a Peculiar Suit.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The United States supreme court today affirmed the judgment of the United States circuit court for the state of Washington in refusing to grant a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Albert Frederick, now undergoing a sentence of twenty years imprisonment for murder in the second degree.

A case presenting unusual and novel features was decided in the supreme court today by Justice Gray delivering the opinion. It was entitled the Northern Pacific Railroad company versus C. J. Brooks & Co., et al., the defendants including a number of saloon keepers and the board of commissioners of Kittitas county Washington. The railroad company brought suit to abate the saloons maintained by the defendants, as nuisances, and to prevent the commissioners of the county from renewing the licenses to them. The ground upon which the complaint was based was that the employees of the company must necessarily use dynamite and steam in constructing the company's railroad line through Kittitas county were induced by the presence of the defendants' saloons along the line of work, to become unfitted for the safe use of these instrumentalities, and thereby caused a loss to the corporation by delay in finishing the work. The state courts ruled against the company, and they appealed from the judgment of the supreme court of Washington to the United States supreme court. Justice Gray, however, for that court, affirmed the judgment of the territorial supreme court, stating that upon none of the grounds advanced by the counsel for the appellant could it maintain the action and secure the relief sought.

GOING HOME.

Commissioner Carter Will Return to Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Commissioner Carter, representing the Hawaiian provisional government in this country for the past two weeks, called upon Secretary Gresham this morning and notified him that he had received permission from his government to return, and would start for San Francisco to-morrow and sail on the Bolig May 4. Subsequently, Carter said that he had a very pleasant interview with Secretary Gresham, but it had no political significance. The situation in Hawaii is quiet and Carter said he presumed that the secretary was awaiting definite advice from Commissioner Blount before any further steps should be taken.

Carter added that the provisional government is determined to send a new minister to succeed Dr. Smith and intimated that the new official would arrive in this country within the next month or six weeks.

NO PANIC.

Cleveland's Statement Pours Oil On the Waters of the Financial Sea.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The authoritative statement of Cleveland yesterday, in which he announced the present and future action of the administration in relation to the use of the gold reserve, has taken the edge off the excitement that followed the act of the secretary of the treasury in dipping into the reserve fund.

If there had been any danger of a financial flurry the danger appears now to have passed. Under the interpretation of Cleveland's statement the reserve is to be treated simply as so much cash in the treasury, and whether the aggregate rises or falls a few millions a day becomes a matter of little concern.

Consequently very little interest is manifested to-day at the department in regard to the financial situation. Some offers of yellow metal were received from the West and accepted, and Treasurer Jordan at New York reported that he also received a considerable amount of gold certificates. Up till noon the treasury was not advised as to the extent of gold shipments for tomorrow.

INDIANS COMPLAIN.

A Delegation of Choctaws Visits Secretary Smith.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—A delegation of Choctaw Indians, representing the Jones faction, had an interview today with Secretary Smith. They represented that Jones was legally elected governor of the nation, and the whole difficulty was brought about by the refusal of the Locke people to recognize his legally constituted authority. A number of Locke's followers, it was asserted, had been indicted and convicted under the law of crimes, and the effort made by Governor Jones to enforce the law and carry into effect the sentences imposed met with armed resistance. The governor is to be sustained by the government in preserving peace and bringing the criminals to justice.

DEPARTMENT NOTES.

Assistant Chief of the Weather Bureau—Egan Has Not Been Recalled.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Secretary Morton has appointed H. C. Dunwoody to be assistant chief of the weather bureau, vice Major Rockwood, resigned, to take effect May 17. Major Dunwoody has been connected with the bureau for many years.

Secretary Gresham denies the cable report that Patrick Egan, minister to Chili, has been recalled.

LOOKS LIKE REVOLUTION.

An Uprising That Is Claiming the Attention of the Mexican Government.

DEMING, N. M., April 23.—J. T. Sanford, a resident of Acapulco, Mexico, who arrived here yesterday, reports that much excitement exists in Northern Mexico, and the government is collecting all the arms and the custom guards at that point, expecting to have to send them to quell an uprising of bandits headed by Comon Milta, near Tomosogick, whose numbers are rapidly increasing by citizens joining the band and presenting the appearance of a revolution in embryo.

WANT A WARSHIP.

Seattle Citizens Apply at the Navy Department for the Monterey.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—A delegation from Washington, headed by Senator Squire, called on Assistant Secretary McAdoo of the navy today and asked that the Monterey be ordered to Seattle to fire a salute at the completion of the Great Northern railroad. Secretary McAdoo took the matter under consideration, but it is hardly thought that the Monterey can go, as she will not be completed for several months.

WANTS JONES TO STAY.

The Nevada Senator Has Been Requested to Go Again to Brussels.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Unless some unforeseen reason for its postponement should occur, the international monetary conference will reconvene at Brussels, May 30. All the commissioners have tendered their resignations and but one of them, Henry W. Cannon, president of the Chase National bank of New York city, has been reappointed. It is understood that Senator Jones of Nevada has been requested to withdraw his resignation.

WORKING FOR THE WEST

Trans-Mississippi Delegates Open the Ogden Congress.

LOUD CHEERS FOR SILVER

Arid lands and Irrigation Come in for Applause—Addresses By Governors—Every State Will Be Represented.

OGDEN, Utah, April 23.—The Trans-Mississippi commercial congress opened in this city today. Previous to the meeting reception committees met the various delegations from the East, West and North. The stars and stripes flew from every building that could boast a pole. Bunting and streamers in profusion decorated both business and private houses. In fact, the whole city presented a holiday appearance. The weather was chilly, but dry, and could not be said to be comfortable. Governor Prince of New Mexico called the congress to order promptly at 11 a. m. in the grand opera house. He spoke briefly, congratulating the congress on the magnificent representation, not only in numbers, but in the truly representative character of the delegations. He referred to the subject of arid lands, irrigation, harbor improvements and free silver. Each was cheered in turn by the localities interested, but free silver brought a storm of applause from every part of the convention, making it evident that silver would occupy the greater part of the convention's time. Governor Thomas of Utah, being delayed by a railroad accident, Col. W. H. Harvey of Ogden made the address of welcome, and was followed by Mayor Lundy in behalf of the city of Ogden. Governor McConnell of Idaho replied to the address of welcome. He expressed the belief that the congress would be enabled to impress the nation with the importance of restoring silver to its former place as the money of the people. [Applause.]

In appointing the committee on credentials it was found that all of the 22 Trans-Mississippi states were represented except Minnesota and Louisiana, whose delegates have not yet arrived. The congress then took a recess until this afternoon.

At the afternoon session letters were read from the governors of Oregon and Missouri protesting against the demonization of silver. Every state is represented by accredited delegates except Minnesota.

IN BIG DEMAND.

Seats for the Needham-Johnson Match Are Going Rapidly.

BUTTE, April 23.—There are only two days left in which to secure tickets for the Needham-Johnson contest, and people who want to witness this great match from reserved seats cannot afford to lose any time in securing them as they are going off fast. The gallery tickets are also being disposed of at a rapid rate. Two of the boxes have been sold and the stage seats are in big demand. Seats will be on sale at Emil & Joe's from 3 to 5 and from 7 to 9 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and evening, and all of Wednesday afternoon.

Parties wanting good seats had better get around as soon as the sale opens unless they want to sit in the gallery. Needham is expected in from the springs to-morrow evening but Johnson will probably not come up until Wednesday evening. A special train will be run up from Anaconda Wednesday evening if sufficient tickets are sold and there no doubt will be.

LOOKING FOR A SCRAP.

Orangemen and Nationalists Keep the Police Busy at Belfast.

LONDON, April 23.—The conflict between the Orangemen and nationalists in Belfast proceeds intermittently. More than 3,000 Orangemen have been marching about in a procession, threatening to attack the nationalists. Carriel hill is held by an equally strong force of nationalists. The military has been kept between the two mobs, and will probably prevent their meeting to-night. Several fights between less considerable bodies have been stopped by the police.

Won by Lasker.

KOKOMO, Ind., April 23.—To-day's game of the international chess match was won by Lasker.

IT WAS GREAT.

The Cake Walk Beats a Circus and a Camp Meeting Combined.

BUTTE, April 23.—Talk about your Circus Maximus and your three-ringed shows. They are not in it with a cake walk. The preliminary to the walk, "Life in the Sunny South," was a clever performance and a most delightful entertainment, in which funny Hogan and Blount kept the audience in an uproar of laughter.

The second part of the entertainment, for want of a better name was entitled "The Literary Club's Reception," was also excellently presented, but would have been better if someone had hit W. H. Johnson with a brick, but probably no one wanted to ruin a brick that way.

Although the cake walk was a mere incident to the show and did not come off until nearly midnight, everybody waited for it.

Judge McHatton, Judge Waldron, F. E. Corbett, Harry Tuttle and Alex Johnston were selected as judges of grace.

Twelve couples were entered in the race which was led off by Ernest Hogan and Mrs. Smith, in which Hogan displayed a grace that would cork a boat. M. C. Craft, a coon from down the Red River country, was brought up next by Mrs. Lewis, and then Mr. Shipley and Mrs. Cushingberry, Mr. White and Mrs. Capper, George Rideout and Mrs. Allen, Mr. Moore and Mrs. Walker, Mr. Small and Mrs. Freeman, Mr. Egan and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Taylor and Mrs. West, Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, Mr. Rumpheys and Mrs. Adams, Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Lawrence, Mr. Hogan and Mrs. Lucas.

"Get on to that walk," came from the gallery.

"Get off my heel," said Hogan to the man behind him.

"See Johnson walk, lookout for the cake," and by the way, Johnson was the proprietor of a walk that would get away with most any thing—unless it roasted high. The judges got in a kick to the effect that the walk was too staid and stiff. They wanted some walking and smiling between the gentlemen and lady walkers. They smiled—that is, some smiled, and Johnson grinned a grin that stopped every watch in the house, while Hogan's smile must have been anticipated by the Zantic each time.

"Turn the hose on that smile," was the greeting when Craft tried to look pleasant from ear to ear.

After everybody had walked off a pound or two of grace, each of the judges said that he was undecided, and the ladies were requested to walk alone, which they did, with better effect than when hampered by ungainly men. Some decidedly handsome costumes added greatly to their grace and charms.

Mr. Craft was also invited to take a trot alone and he brought down the house. Johnson, too, with his Christmas tree aside was given another opportunity, but when Mr. Rideout was called out again there was a cry of "he takes the cake," but he did not to-night, as the rewards will be made until to-morrow night, although one gentleman of color bet another gentleman of color that Rideout would take the cake. Even John Maguire thought there was considerable grace and much character to the walk of Rideout. The contest was concluded for the night with an exhibition walk by Mrs. Chambers and Mr. Rankin, Mr. Honesty and Mr. White.

THE CRIMINAL RECORD.

Offenses That Have Brought Men and Women Into Court.

BUTTE, April 23.—Marshal Small is preparing his annual report to be submitted to the city council at its next meeting. The report shows that, since May 1, 1932, up to noon of to-day, the police made 2,700 arrests. Of this number, 2,008 were for violating city ordinances and 692 for offenses against state laws. The cases were divided as follows: Bribery, 4; murder, 2; assault and battery, 52; passing counterfeit money, 3; threatening to kill, 4; cruelty to animals, 3; forgery, 10; poisoning domestic animals, 1; vagrancy, 116; breaking jail, 2; cheating, 22; running gambling houses without license, 12; running opium joints, 5; arson, 2; bastardy, 11; assault with deadly weapons, 31; burglary, 79; petty larceny, 179; carrying concealed weapons, 59; practicing medicine without license, 9; malicious mischief, 6; disturbing the peace, 2; adultery, 3; committing nuisance, 1; rape, 1.

The variety of offenses contained in the city list is not so great, as the city's jurisdiction extends only to offenses against peace and good order. The greatest number of city arrests was for disturbing the peace, the record being 961. For vagrancy there were 441 arrests; the drunks numbered 298; for violating ordinances pertaining to licensees and kindred subjects, 157; for assault and battery, 116; for malicious mischief, 33; for carrying concealed weapons, 22.

GET YOUR SEATS.

The Butte Elks Promise an Excellent Entertainment.

BUTTE, April 23.—A week from next Tuesday evening, May 2, the Elks will give their first annual benefit at the opera house. The entertainment promises to be the event of the season and, judging from the demand for seats which already exists, the opera house will be packed from pit to dome.

The Elks, the land over, have a great reputation as entertainers and as many people have reasons for knowing the members of Silver Bow lodge are not a bit behind their brethren of other places. Some of the best amateur dramatic talent in the city is contained within the lodge and all who attend can rest assured that they will get the worth of their money in pure and wholesome and innocent amusement. Everything in connection with the entertainment will be new and original. A great many visitors from neighboring cities are expected. The Anaconda lodge will send a delegation and has already secured the Patti Rosa box. The sale of seats will begin at the opera house next Wednesday morning. No seats will be sold at auction, so it behooves all who intend to witness the performance to be on hand early and secure their seats.

BRIGANDS' REVENGE.

An Entire Family Murdered in the Night.

ROME, April 23.—A man named Alluni, his wife and two sons, were murdered as they slept last night in their house in Pieve di Petrarca, near Perugia. One of the sons recently gave the police information as to the haunts of brigands in the surrounding region.

HIS BONES DISCOVERED

In a Fine in the Great Falls Smelter, John Sandberg Died.

THE AFFAIR IS A MYSTERY

He Went to Repair a Furnace and Was Not Seen Afterward—Overcome by the Intense Heat.

Special Dispatch to the Standard.

GREAT FALLS, April 23.—A handful of charred and crumbling bones at the morgue is all that remains of what was mortal of John Sandberg, the furnace-man, whose mysterious disappearance was related in the STANDARD three weeks ago. Sandberg was employed by the Boston & Montana company, and when last seen left his boarding place intending, as he remarked to some of his friends, to make some repairs on one of the rotary calcining furnaces at the smelter. He did not return that day, nor the next, and his mates became much worried about him, as he was known to have been somewhat under the influence of liquor at the time of his departure from his room.

Another day passed, and still there was no trace of Sandberg. Thoroughly alarmed by this time, the man's friends made diligent search for him, but could learn nothing further than the fact that a laborer at the smelter had seen him enter the manhole of the furnace which he intended to repair. Nobody had seen him since that time, and the belief became current, as stated in the STANDARD, that the unfortunate man had in some way fallen into the main flue, which leads to the big stack of the smelter, and there, overcome by the intense heat and the poisonous gases of combustion, he had met his death.

Several attempts were made to determine whether his body was in the flue or not, but none of them were successful. A lantern was lowered into the flue through a man hole, but the heat was so intense that the lantern frame was almost instantly melted. This was sufficient evidence that if the man had entered the flue, he must have been killed instantly, so great was the heat.

His friends held persistently to the theory that Sandberg had met his death in this way, but, as his body must have been consumed by the heat, and therefore could not be recovered, the furnace fires were not drawn, and the fate of the missing man remained a matter of speculation until to-day, when the flue was searched, the fires having been drawn yesterday.

The examination of the flue led to the discovery, in its lower extremity, of a heap of charred and blackened bones, which was all that remained of the unfortunate man.

Beside the bones were a pair of steel shoe buckles and the metal parts of a pocket knife, which Sandberg's friends identified as having belonged to him. The remains were gathered up and brought to this city, where the coroner held an inquest this afternoon. Several witnesses were examined, but nothing new was developed. His friends at the boarding house testified to his departure to repair the furnace, and the man who saw him enter the rotary cylinder told his tale. Several smelter men were questioned, and expressed their opinion that he must have crawled through the lateral and into the main flue where the bones were found. What prompted him to do this is not known. He was not intoxicated to a degree which would render him unconscious of what he was doing.

Sandberg was about 40 years of age and unmarried. He came to Great Falls from Anaconda when the Boston & Montana works started.

A BIG FAILURE.

Governor McConnell of Idaho Is Affected.

MOSCOW, Idaho, April 23.—The well known corporation of McConnell-Maguire company, the largest mercantile house in Idaho, of which Governor McConnell is the head, was closed by the sheriff to-day. The First National bank of Moscow issued an attachment for $25,000, and the sheriff at once closed the doors. The Moscow National bank immediately followed with an attachment for $25,000; Murphy, Grant & Co. of San Francisco and Allen & Lewis of Portland also served attachments running the fines up to about $100,000. More are expected to-morrow which will increase the liabilities materially. The assets amount to about $80,000 in stock. The large book accounts and firm's business property are mortgaged for $25,000. The firm was incorporated for $100,000. A branch of the house known as McConnell, Chambers & Co., conducted at Pullman Washington, made large purchases of wheat and the firm profited largely thereby.

The recent depression in the wheat market, however, is said to have caused heavy losses and the firms were unable to meet their obligations. In order to save themselves the Pullman business was sold last week and the money derived therefrom placed in the Moscow house. It came too late, however, and the crash arrived to-day. Governor McConnell is deeply sympathetic with by his numerous friends. It is thought that with careful management the firm may be able to pay dollar for dollar. To-night the firm made a general assignment for the benefit of all its creditors. The First National bank and the Moscow National bank are not affected by the failure.

SPOKANE POLITICS.
